WHAT ARE OTHERS SAYING

It is rare to find a speaker who knows the heart and soul of grandparents as well as Larry McCall. By combining humor, examples, and an informal but highly focused presentation, he demonstrated his command of biblical principles and gave his audience immediately useful take-aways. True learning took place. The audience left feeling excited and motivated. Larry is friendly and personable, making it easy for those in attendance to talk to him and ask questions, which he was eager to answer. As someone who has attended many speaking events over the last 30 years, Larry's presentations are among some of the best!

— JERE VINCENT, president of Family Builders Ministries

When he speaks, Larry McCall is as biblically rooted, Christ-centered, practically helpful and engaging as he is when he writes.

— DAVID MICHAEL,
Founder of Children Desiring God

When Larry speaks, whether about grandparenting, marriage or any other topic, people listen. I listen, not only because he speaks the truth with the power and authority of God's Word, but because he practices what he preaches. He truly is a teacher, mentor and friend who loves as Christ loves.

— CAVIN T. HARPER,
Founder/President Christian Grandparenting Network

Larry calls us, with a laser focus, to see and savor Christ and to allow the gospel to shape our grandparenting. Larry embodies what he writes about in his book, 'Grandparenting with Grace.' He walks the talk. Larry is a humble man, a faithful pastor, a husband worthy of imitation, and a loving father and grandfather seeking to live in a manner worthy of the gospel.
